Huntersville and Lambert's Point Integral Parts of City.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Norfolk, Va. December 9.—With a Ninth and Tenth Ward added to the city limits, and the population thereby increased by at least 15,000 souls, making the city's total population around $5,000, Norfolk will begin the new year. Following the conclusion of arguments this afternoon in the County Court, sitting in Portsmouth, Judge Harrison, presiding, announced that both Huntersville and Lambert's Point are integral parts of the city of Norfolk. A decree ordering their annexation, as the Ninth and Tenth Wards, will be entered to-morrow and become effective at once.

will be entered to morrow and become effective at once.

The fight for the annexation of the territory has been in progress for several weeks. The fact that Huntersyllle, with nearly 11,000 people, and Lambert's Point, with over 3,000 people, are divided from the city proper only by streets, and in need of sanitary regulations, street and other improvements, as well as police and fire protection, was too potent to escape the court, although the Norfolk county political leaders fought hard to prevent annexation, even asking for separate incorporation.

CASE NOT CONCLUDED.

Defendants Introduce No Evidence in Trial of Showmen.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

Greensboro, N. C., Docember 9.—In Federal court in the trial of Napier and Quaster, two showmen, indicted for the alleged violation of the white slave traffic law, the presecution rested at 4 o'clock this afternoon, after having examined witnesses all day, Judge Bynum, for the defendants, announced that no evidence would be introduced. The district attorney then withdrew the counts of the bill charging conspiracy.

Judge Bynum entered a demurrer to the evidence contending that the facts proven did not constitute an offense under the statule, He also argued that Congress had no power to enact such; a law under the interstate commerce; clause of the Constitution, because it interfered with the exclusive power of the State to exercise and control its own police powers.

When Judge Bynum concluded, Judge Boyd said this was an entirely new act involving an entirely new principle, even if the facts shown brought the case under the provisions of the law, He gave the district attorney until Saturday at 10 colock to investigate his side of the contention, and adjourned court at 5 o'clock, A memorandum book found on Napier's person when arrested contained names and addresses of girls in Richmond, Lynchburg, Danville and many other cities. By these addresses, the government secured many of the girls as witnesses.

When court reassembled in the afternoon the jury in the case against Daisy Caudle, of High Point, on trial for alleged attempt to blackmail several Methodist preachers by sending threatening letters through the mails, having failed to agree on a verdict, was discharged. District Attorney Holton announced that the government would take a noile pros. in the case.
